Miri Piri Khalsa College, Bhadaur encourages students to undertake internships and project work in areas related to the Indian Knowledge System, local community issues, heritage, environment, and disaster management. Students are guided by faculty members to identify socially relevant topics and real-life problem areas for project work.

Awareness programmes, expert lectures, and mentoring sessions are organized to motivate students to participate in internships and projects connected with rural development, traditional knowledge, disaster preparedness, climate resilience, health awareness, and social outreach activities. These initiatives help students develop social responsibility, practical skills, and applied learning experiences along with academic knowledge.
